

Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 16 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Mostly cloudy and mild today, but brighter and breezier tomorrow.

Today:

A cloudy and, in places, misty, locally perhaps even foggy start to the day. However, slowly improving with skies brightening from the west and perhaps a few glimmers of sunshine. Mild with light winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:

A few showery outbreaks of rain are possible during this evening. Skies will become clearer overnight and it will turn chilly, but the breeze will keep it generally frost free. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:

Feeling a little less mild on Wednesday, due to a slightly stronger breeze. However, generally staying dry and bright, with the best of the sunshine during the morning. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Becoming cloudier and milder again to end the week, but staying largely dry. Some bright or sunny intervals are likely with the odd fog patch where skies remain clearer overnight.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.